

Home Fabric Trends 2025

With commentary from
Sarah Surace
Design Director @ Regal

Home Fabric Trends 2025

REGAL
FABRICS

Colors

Where green, blue, blush, brown & neutrals are headed this year

Textures

What's beyond peak bouclé

Aesthetics

Dominant design aesthetics & pattern trends

2025 Color Trends

Greener blues, yellower greens, redder browns, warmer neutrals & blush as a versatile core all play a part in 2025's key color trends.

REGAL
FABRICS

Blue

Blues are still getting greener & dustier and with all the browns taking over gray, we are seeing that 90s teal + brown color story making a comeback.

Green

Green shades are shifting more yellow to mossier olive-tones, army & deep forest floor colors. Even some retro mint greens are gaining especially in multi palettes.

get the look:
Dusty blue-green fabrics
Mossy green fabrics
Red-brown fabrics
Warm neutral fabrics
Blush fabrics

Brown

I think we may be seeing more red-browns and chocolates that hedge either port or eggplant.

Neutrals

As gray gave way to all white over the past few seasons, we're now seeing more warm neutrals, creamier colors, wood-tone browns and warm metallics come in as our core neutrals.

Blush

Blush is still very popular and has really become a new "core" neutral that combines with just about every other trending color. I don't think this color will go away anytime soon. It's solidifying itself as less trendy and more core.

Trending Textures

get the look:

R-Hamlet

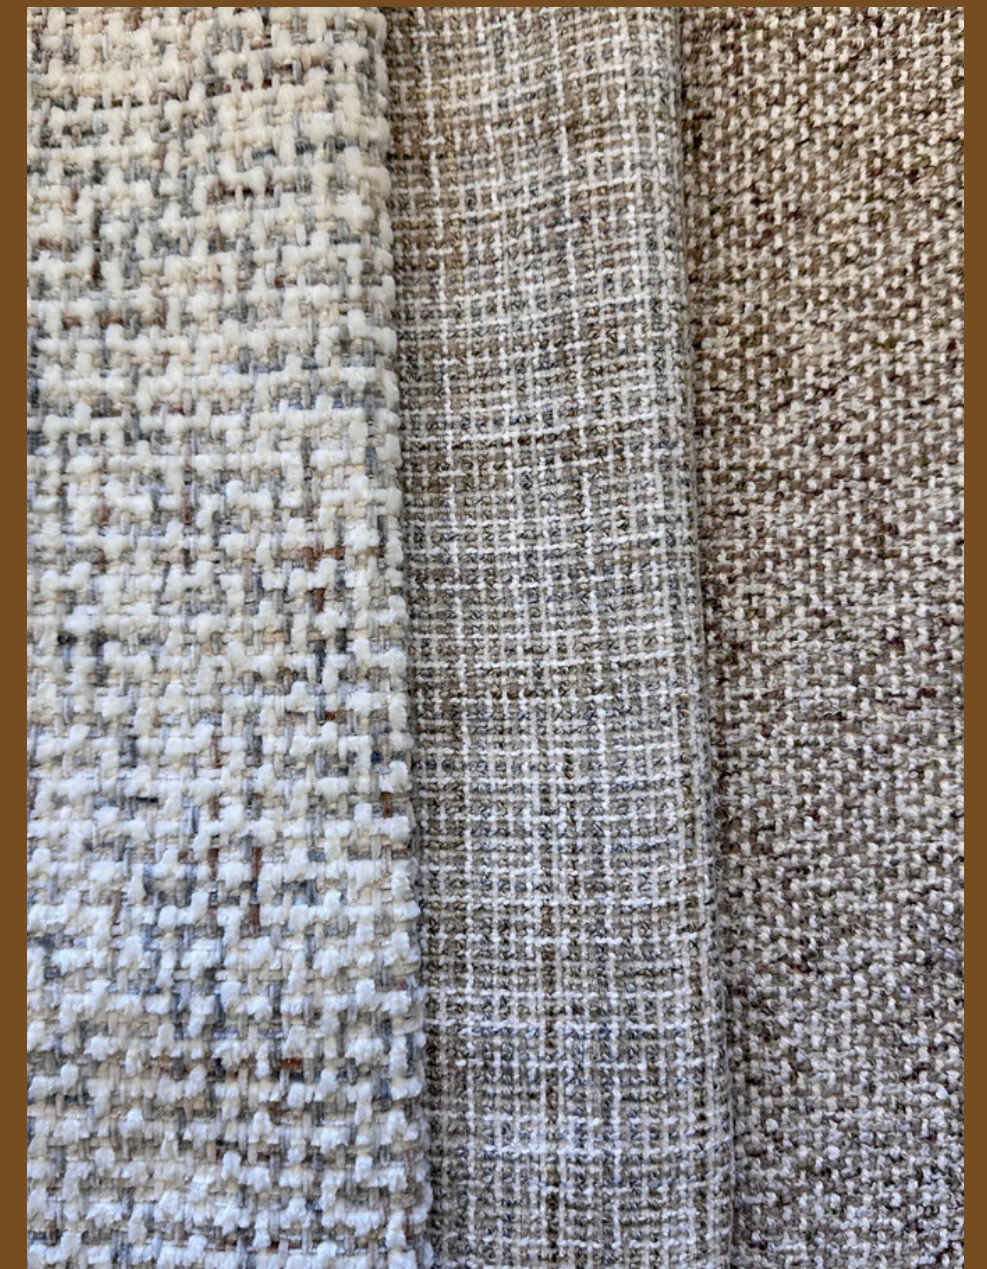

R-Cedric

R-Drive

Bouclé is peaking as the main texture trend, especially white bouclé. Designers are shifting to more interesting multi-color textures that combine different yarn types. I think bouclé is still a core yarn texture, we're not going to see it go away totally, we're just going to see it used more in combination with different kinds of yarn & especially infused with more color.

As we shift from dryer-feeling bouclé, there's going to be more of a trend towards plush, luxurious textures like chenilles and velvets coming back in.

REGAL
FABRICS

2025 Trending Aesthetic: Modern Tradition

REGAL
FABRICS

Modern tradition is still a dominant design aesthetic, with the cottage/English country house look at the core. Designers are looking to infuse the home with nostalgic personal style with a feminine touch. Block prints, plaids and floral tapestries or prints that look like old world tapestries are super popular.

I see this whole trend continuing and getting a fresh French country take in 2025 with more “real” tapestry jacquards, toile, gingham plaid & perhaps a chicken novelty!

get the look:

K-Trillium

R-Neville

R-Josephine

R-Kinsley

R-Cedric

K-Pomarium

2025 Trending Aesthetic: Playful Contemporary

REGAL
FABRICS

As a countertrend to the resurgence of traditional & old-world heritage design, there's a movement toward contemporary. Rounded and over-stuffed furniture, brighter jewel tones, and playful geometric shapes support this trend.

We may see contemporary get more hard-edged as we move into 2025-2026 with furniture shapes that are more hexagonal and angular in contrast to the rounded furniture that's been so popular lately.

get the look:
R-Gumdrop
K-Montage
R-Affair

2025 Pattern Trends

From moody biophilic designs to ethnic motifs, trending patterns in 2025 are heavily influenced by artisan-crafted heritage looks.

REGAL
FABRICS

Biophilic

Tree, forest, floral, vintage looks and traditional designs get updated with handsome, modernized colorations.

Playful Geometric

Playful geometrics and vibrant 70s-inspired colors create a West Coast contemporary vibe with a nostalgic, laid-back sophistication.

Heritage

Intertwining heritage craft with contemporary styling, complex ikat patterns and primitive motifs evoke a sense of global exploration.

Small Scale

For every trend, a counter trend: the market may get saturated with all the prints & block prints that are everywhere so we may see a shift to more woven chair accents & feature jacquards.

get the look:
Biophilic fabrics
Playful geometric fabrics
Heritage fabrics
Small scale fabrics

Thank You!

View our latest fabric collections and keep up with what's new on Regal Fabrics' Instagram account!

instagram.com/regalfabricsinc

177 N. Main St, Building 400, Middleton MA 01949

www.regalfabrics.com